Attorney Daigle is the principal and founder of Daigle Law Group, LLC, a firm specializing in government operations, with an emphasis on management and operational consulting. His experience focuses on civil rights litigation, including misconduct claims and employment matters. Mr. Daigle serves as legal advisor to departments across the country, providing counsel to command staff and officers on legal liability, policy development, employment issues, use of force, laws of arrest, and search and seizure. His experience focuses on internal affairs operations and the use of force, specifically in the training, investigation, and supervision of force and deadly force incidents. Attorney Daigle speaks at seminars and conferences across the country, focusing on legal standards for effective and constitutional police operations.

He has served as a member of the Independent Monitoring Teams for Oakland, CA, and formally for Niagara Falls, NY. He has worked with Law Enforcement Agencies that are under investigation by the Department of Justice Civil Rights Litigation Section under a Consent Decree. Attorney Daigle developed the DLG Policy Center, which provides policy development consulting services to departments across the Country.

Attorney Daigle is General Counsel for the FBI Law Enforcement Executive Development Association and a member of its instructor cadre, teaching Supervisory Liability. He was the former Chair of the IACP Legal Officers Section and a former member of the IACP Civil and Human Rights Committee. Attorney Daigle is the Chairman of the Legal Section for the National Tactical Officers Association. He has completed the Force Science Institute Certification and Advanced Specialist training programs. He is a former member of the Connecticut State Police and currently maintains his reserve officer certification.
