

The MASSACHUSETTS POLICE ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

What is it and Why Participate?

Law Enforcement Accreditation is a "Badge of Honor" in the Law Enforcement Profession.

It is one of the best measures of a Police Department's compliance with professional Standards.

Accreditation is a self-initiated, voluntary process by which agencies strive to meet and maintain the body of standards that have been established for their profession, by their profession.

Being certified or accredited is symbolic of an agency's commitment to professional excellence in the workplace.

It means that the agency has agreed to adopt Program standards as a way of doing business -- and those standards are considered best practices, administratively and operationally.

Achieving Certification or Accreditation status means:

- ❑ The agency is committed to meeting professional standards.
- ❑ The agency is willing to be assessed on a regularly scheduled basis by Commission-appointed assessors to confirm compliance with professional standards; and
- ❑ The agency agrees to correct any deficiencies discovered during the assessment process to establish or re-establish compliance with standards.

About the Massachusetts Police Accreditation Program

- ❑ Massachusetts is proud to be one of 30 states that offer an accreditation program for its law enforcement community.
- ❑ Massachusetts offers two program awards: Certification and Accreditation, and Accreditation is the higher of the two awards.
- ❑ Participation in the program is strictly voluntary. CEO's understand that enrolling in the program may generate some constructive criticism, but the process is not designed or intended to embarrass the agency's CEO or its personnel.
- ❑ The Program establishes standards for police departments to adopt. Standards generally dictate which topical areas an agency must have policies and procedures on leaving the development and the enforcement of agency-specific policies and procedures up to the agency's CEO and supervisory staff.
- ❑ The vast majority of the Commission's standards require agencies to commit their often unwritten policies and procedures to writing; the remaining standards are equipment and facility related.

Cost to Enroll in the Program

The annual fee is based on agency-size and on the number of full-time police officers in the agency, only.

There are four agency-size categories.

Full-time Police Officers	FY2019's Annual Fee
<10	$875
10-25	$1,500
26-75	$1,900
75 >	$2,400

Agencies entering the program mid-year, pay a pro-rated fee per month.

The MASSACHUSETTS POLICE ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

What is it and Why Participate?

- ❑ The process begins with a thorough examination of the agency by the agency to determine compliance with program standards. This “self-assessment” (or internal evaluation) that is initiated by the agency's CEO is then followed by an external, peer review by Commission-appointed assessors. Assessors are typically Chiefs of Police and Accreditation Managers from other participating agencies that have been specially trained to conduct “on-site assessments” on behalf of the Commission.
- ❑ Assessments for Certification are conducted in two days by two assessors (assessing 159 standards). Assessments for Accreditation are conducted in three days by three assessors (assessing 300+ standards).
- ❑ The Commission fully expects “functional” compliance with program standards (i.e. compliance in practice), not only at the time of the agency’s assessment but following it.
- ❑ Assessments for Certification and Accreditation are not much different than line and staff inspections in that they both serve to acknowledge what’s right, and identify and correct deficiencies. That said Certification and Accreditation awards do not necessarily imply total or continual compliance with program standards. Participating agencies are however expected to monitor and evaluate their compliance with standards during their three-year award period and take all necessary steps to re-establish standards compliance when non-compliance is discovered.

Nature of the On-site Assessment

- ❑ The on-site assessment is audit in nature and limited in scope by design. It is not a management study. The Commission’s Assessment Checklists establish specific evaluation measures for determining compliance with each standard and these Checklists are provided to agencies upon enrollment in the program.
- ❑ Initial assessments for Certification and Accreditation are system-based; Re-assessments for Certification and Accreditation are more performance-based.
- ❑ Quote from MBTA Police Chief William J. Bratton introducing the concept of accreditation to department personnel in a department-wide memo: “The standards used for accreditation deal with the Police Department, not individuals within the Department. Accreditation is not a performance evaluation of individuals. It is a national measure of procedures and policies for police agencies. These standards most often deal with whether the department has a written guideline - a policy, rule or procedure - covering particular aspects of its operation.”
- ❑ Certification and Accreditation Programs do not certify or accredit Police Chiefs, Accreditation Managers or any other individuals in the agency; they certify and accredit police departments as a whole.
